KEEP IT OR GIFT IT

CHRISTMAS 2026 | COMPETITION TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Promoter

This promotion is organised by Stradbally Glamping, operated by Pitched Perfect, Derrykearn, Abbeyleix, Co. Laois, Ireland (the “Promoter”).

2. Promotion and entry period

The “Keep It or Gift It” Christmas promotion relates to accommodation at Stradbally Glamping for Electric Picnic 2027. Eligible existing bookings and eligible new bookings completed by 11:59pm (Irish time) on 23 December 2026 will be included in the draw. No separate competition-entry fee applies. The promotion is not affiliated with or sponsored by Electric Picnic.

3. Eligibility

The booking holder must be at least 18 years of age and have an eligible, valid Stradbally Glamping 2027 accommodation booking. Only accommodation bookings qualify for entry. Purchases of shuttle bus passes, spa passes, parking, upgrades, add-ons or any other non-accommodation product do not qualify as entries, whether purchased separately or alongside accommodation. Stradbally Glamping is an adults-only site and any persons using either accommodation booking must be at least 18. Employees directly involved in administering the draw and their immediate families are excluded. Bookings that have been cancelled or fully refunded before the draw do not qualify.

4. Entry allocation

Each eligible accommodation booking receives one entry only, including bookings made before this promotion was announced. Shuttle bus passes, spa passes, parking, upgrades, add-ons, extras and instalment payments do not create additional entries. A customer purchasing only non-accommodation products receives no entry. No separate competition entry or additional fee is required. An accommodation booking paid by Partial.ly or another instalment plan is eligible for the draw if the booking remains valid and its payments are up to date at the draw date. Full payment before the draw is not required. Multiple distinct eligible accommodation bookings may each receive one entry.

5. Prize

The single prize is one 2-Person Luxury Suite at Stradbally Glamping, Ballykilcavan Estate, Stradbally, Co. Laois, for Electric Picnic 2027, 26–29 August 2027. Maximum occupancy is two adults. The published selling price and stated value of the prize is €2,500. Electric Picnic admission tickets, transport, food, shuttle passes, spa passes and personal expenses are not included. The prize cannot be substituted for a different event or date.

6. Draw and notification

One winner will be selected by a fair random draw on 24 December 2026 from all eligible entries. The Promoter will retain a record of the draw and contact the booking holder using the details supplied with their booking. The selected winner must respond and confirm eligibility within 14 days of notification. If the selected winner cannot be contacted or is ineligible, the Promoter may draw another eligible entry. There is no additional entry fee or fee to redeem the prize.

7. Original booking and Partial.ly instalments

Winning the Luxury Suite does not cancel, replace, upgrade, discount, refund, reduce or settle the winner's original accommodation booking. The prize is additional to that booking. Any outstanding balance on the original booking, whether payable through Partial.ly or another payment plan, remains due under the original payment agreement. A customer with an eligible instalment booking can enter and win while payments remain outstanding, but the original accommodation booking must be paid in full by its existing contractual payment deadline for the prize accommodation to be honoured and released for use. No early payment, new fee or additional charge is imposed solely because the customer wins. Payment dates are not accelerated. If the customer fails to pay the original booking under its agreed terms, the Promoter may withhold use of the prize until any available contractual remedy period has expired; if the original booking is validly cancelled for non-payment, the prize entitlement may also be withdrawn. This condition must be applied consistently and fairly, without restricting statutory consumer rights. Transferring or gifting the original booking does not release the original booking holder from payment obligations unless expressly agreed in writing by the Promoter.

8. Keep it or gift it - permitted options

Subject to clause 7, the winner may (a) keep their existing booking and gift or privately transfer the prize Suite to up to two eligible adults; (b) use the prize Suite and gift or privately transfer their original accommodation booking to eligible guests; or (c) retain both bookings for eligible guests within their respective maximum occupancies. Each transfer requires notification to and approval from the Promoter before arrival and is subject to ordinary booking transfer, guest registration and site conditions. The original booking remains subject to its agreed payments and terms. All guests must be adults aged 18 or over.

9. No monetary alternative or buy-back

No cash alternative, monetary equivalent, refund, credit, voucher, exchange or buy-back will be offered by Stradbally Glamping in respect of the prize, including where the winner or recipient chooses not to use it. The Promoter will not purchase the prize back or reimburse the value of unused accommodation. These prize-specific conditions do not restrict any statutory consumer rights or any refund rights that independently apply to the winner's paid original booking.

10. Restrictions and guest requirements

The prize may not be sold commercially, advertised for resale or exchanged with the Promoter for money or other products. A private gift or transfer to eligible guests is permitted as described above. All guests must comply with the adult-only policy, check-in requirements, site rules and reasonable safety arrangements. Admission to Electric Picnic must be arranged separately.

11. Personal information

The Promoter will use booking contact information as necessary to administer entries, verify eligibility, contact the winner and arrange the prize, in accordance with its applicable privacy notice and data protection obligations. Entry does not constitute consent to unrelated marketing.

12. General

The Promoter may verify entry information and reject fraudulent or duplicate entries. If circumstances outside its reasonable control affect the promotion, the Promoter will act fairly and transparently and will not reduce accrued consumer rights. Nothing in these terms excludes liability where exclusion is prohibited by law. The Promoter's usual accommodation booking terms continue to apply except where these competition terms expressly provide otherwise.
